NON-CREDIT PROGRAMS

Build Skills for What Comes Next

Not every next step requires a degree. SIUE also offers shorter, focused learning experiences that help employees strengthen workplace skills, grow professionally, and adapt to changing demands.

Workplace Wellness

Build practical tools to manage stress, strengthen resilience and support a healthier, more productive work environment.

Interpersonal Communication

Communicate clearly, navigate conflict, collaborate across roles and build trust across teams.

Data Science and Its Applications

Learn to use information more effectively, spot patterns and improve decision-making.

Grow with Google

A limited number of learning opportunities may be available for Ameren employees who want to explore new skills before committing to a longer program.

Recommended starting points:

Google AI Professional Certificate and Stakeholder Management Specialization.

Customized Learning for Ameren

SIUE can customize non-credit programming based on Ameren's workforce needs, including leadership development, communication, workplace wellness, AI, data, project management and other professional skill areas.
